ARE WE RE-CRUCIFYING JESUS IN EVERY MASS?

Bible repeatedly indicates that Jesus suffered and died "once for all." Then are Catholics re-crucifying Jesus at every Mass? "No, we are simply re-doing the Last Supper obeying Christ's command: "Do this in memory of me." But the fact is that Jesus' Last Supper on Holy Thursday was a "pre- presentation" of his Calvary sacrifice on Good Friday. In other words, it was a memorial of his Last Supper (Passover Seder meal) as well as his death on the cross. Hence the Catholic Mass or Eucharistic Celebration is a re-enactment of both. Here, the same Christ who offered himself once in a bloody manner on the altar of the cross at Calvary is contained and is offered in an unbloody manner, using signs and symbols, while the same Christ is "enthroned gloriously in heaven" The Catholic Church teaches that as the bread and wine consecrated by the Lord at the Last Supper were changed into His body and His blood which were to be offered for us on the cross, likewise the bread and wine consecrated by the priest [today] are changed into the body and blood of Christ enthroned gloriously in heaven. Who authorized priests to do this? Jesus himself: Because Jesus told his apostles: This is my body which is given for you. Do this in remembrance of me [Luke 22:19b]. This is the command by which Jesus ordained his apostles as priests (since he was performing a sacrificial action and commanded them to do it, he was commanding them to perform sacrifice. What is being repeated in the celebration of Mass is not the re-crucifixion of Jesus, but only a memorial of Jesus' Last Supper as well as death on the cross. God Bless!
